

Beyond Fresh Thinking

Innovation. Quality. Dependability.

By now you know that TimeMist invented metered air freshening and is constantly evolving to innovate the brand and remain at the forefront of commercial fragancing. But if you look deeper, you'll find that it is the people behind the brand that truly make TimeMist a category leader.

From research and development to production and shipping to the integrated customer service, sales and marketing team, the Waterbury Companies family works together to ensure that you will always receive the top-quality product that you have come to depend on from TimeMist.
